

British South Africa Police: Roll of Honour

Members Killed in Action (KIA) and Killed on Active Service (KOAS)

Compiled by Andrew Field (8646)

In the history of a force that existed for seventy years, and whose members were involved in wars, campaigns and, on occasions, rather indistinct affrays in many parts of Africa and beyond, there is bound to be a blurring of the lines of fact, and gaps in the accumulation of knowledge. With history, the gleaning of fresh facts is a continuing and exciting series of circumstances. This Roll of Honour is based on available information and the facts as known at February 2009, supported by a number of sources and rules.

In compiling the roll, the following criteria guided the author. Those listed in the roll comprise any attested regular or reserve member of the British South Africa Police who was:

- killed in active combat or while on specific defensive duties (i.e. during a contact, ambush, landmine, or station attack) by direct or indirect offensive enemy action (generally classified as 'killed in action' - KIA);
- abducted and murdered by enemy forces, in any operational area, in consequence of their association with the British South Africa Police, irrespective of their duty status at the time, but includes regular members of the force who lost their lives in terrorist attacks on civilian airliners; and those
- died while in active combat or defensive roles (which shall exclude civilian police duties) as a result of unforeseen incidents (i.e. friendly fire, vehicle or shooting accident - by and largely classified as 'killed on active service' - KOAS).

The compiler continues to research and delve into the lives surrounding the names listed, as well as seeking any additional information. Such information or updating, observing the above criteria, will be published on the British South Africa Police Regimental Association website. The list does not include deaths occurring in service of policemen in their civilian role, nor does it include war deaths of those officers and men who served in the predecessor forces, or who will killed during the rebellions, the Anglo-Boer War, or other conflict before the formation of the British South Africa Police.

The roll lists those honoured by surname, first name/s, force number, attestation month, rank at time of death, unit, circumstances, and date and place of demise where known.

They shall grow not old, as we that are left grow old:
Age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn.
At the going down of the sun and in the morning
We will remember them.
